Mrs Edward Wells,

Chatham, Ont.

My dear Cousin:-

I hope you arrived home safely and found everything all right last Friday; the card you wrote, I received Thursday evening.

I sent you the copy you requested of one last Friday evening. You must surely have received it ere this.

I have not seen Charlie since Thursday to speak to, he was coming in again, but what happened him I do not know. He went away without seeing us, Saturday afternoon probably he intends to return soon.

I am told that the will was made a couple of hours before he died; It seems very queer that they should run to the second house for the loan of a pen when we were right next door and after it was all over they came running in to us telling us that he was getting worse. but never mentioned a word then of what had occurred a few minutes before. I am told that she will not present the will, why I do not know. Whether Charlie saw the will or not I do not and what he thinks of it I don't know. but the day he
